

SOCIAL ACTIVITY OF THE YOUNGER GENERATION AS A SUBJECT OF SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

ALEKSEY VOLOKHOV

Doctor of Pedagogy, Professor, International Union of children's public associations "Union of pioneer organizations - Federation of Children's Organizations"

E-mail: vav1952@rambler.ru

IRINA FRISHMAN

Doctor of Pedagogy, Professor, Deputy Director, Leading Research Fellow, Institute of psycho-pedagogical problems of childhood of the Russian Academy of Education;

8, Pogodinskaya str., Moscow, 119121 Russia

E-mail: spo-frishman@yandex.ru

The authors present modern methodological approaches to the problems of development of younger generation's social activity. We demonstrate the results of general analysis of scientific research during the last decade, which are connected to tendencies of children movement's development, process of its modernization, and implementation of the principle of children's participation in solving the problems that affect their interests. The research shows the priority issues in the solutions of younger generation's social activity problems - the study of education system's attitude towards children movement, public values of students; value standards priorities of the younger generation, difficulties in the process of delivery of norms and social practice traditions, mechanisms of interaction between social institutions of education in order to achieve the aims of the National Strategy of Actions in the interests of Children.

Keywords: Social activities; Children movement; Participation of children in problem solving of National Strategy of Actions in the interests of Children.